

Pacific Pain Forum

April 28, 2023
0800-1600

 UBC Robson Square, 800 Robson St.
Vancouver, BC, Canada

Greetings!

The Pacific Pain Forum is a full-day hybrid pain conference presented by Providence Health Care. Previously named Interdisciplinary Pain Education, the Pacific Pain Forum is where interdisciplinary health care providers, researchers and people with lived experience will learn about the latest advances in clinical care, research and innovations in pain medicine. The Pacific Pain Forum is committed to offering an exceptional program and experience that will the expand the field of pain medicine across Western Canada and beyond.

The 2023 conference is our biggest meeting yet, with hundreds of dedicated attendees meeting in person, and another few hundred expected to attend virtually. There will be an incredible line up of world renowned and eminent speakers in the field of pain medicine.

Program highlights:

- Keynote presentations from leading voices in the international pain community
- Engaging interdisciplinary talks
- Concurrent workshops to learn practical clinical skills to manage pain
- Abstract and research presentation on emerging evidence and innovations

Sponsorship opportunities:

With your support, we will be able to advance pain knowledge and clinical excellence. Join us as a sponsor to make the 2023 Pacific Pain Forum an overwhelming success and improve care for people living with pain. See the next page for the many sponsorship opportunities for our 2023 conference.
